

940.544 MOY

Freedom Flyers: The Tuskegee Airmen of World War II by J. Todd Moyer

Author Moyer discusses the double troubles of America's first African-American military pilots as they fought on two fronts, the European front against Axis forces, and at home against Jim Crow racism and segregation. With 15,000 sorties and 200 German aircraft destroyed because of their fine military accomplishments, they scored a resounding victory for the Allied forces and democracy in the free world! They literally sparked the modern struggle for racial equality by prompting the desegregation of America's fighting forces.

Need the Tuskegee Airmen for a Child?

The Tuskegee Airmen
by Judy L. Hasday

This title about the trials and triumphs of the Tuskegee Airmen is perfect for an older child who has a Black History Month book report or history presentation to do on this topic!

J 940.54
HAS

Need Dr. King Quotes?

Quotable King
by Shirley Washington

Quotable King contains a plethora of information on Dr. Martin Luther King's historic and defining statements during his experiences in Birmingham, Selma, and during the Civil Rights Movement in general.

323.119 QUO

Like Local African-American History?

Union County Black Americans
by Ethel M. Washington

Read about the trials and tribulations of African Americans in the Union County, NJ area. The item covers colonial times through contemporary. Many images complement original text in this excellent resource.

NJ 974.936
WAS

Need a Contemporary Black Author?

April 4, 1968: Martin Luther King, Jr.'s Death and How It Changed America
by Michael Eric Dyson

Read this stimulating evaluation by acclaimed best-seller Dyson for his take on the progress and setbacks of achieving King's American "Promised Land".

323.092 DYS

Like Film Adaptations?

A Raisin in the Sun
by Sony Pictures Home Entertainment

This is an acclaimed film version of Lorraine Hansberry's timeless classic play that changed American theater forever with a radical portrayal of black life. It stars Phylicia Rashad.

DVD DRR

Want a Parallel Take on Civil Rights?

Nelson Mandela: A Life in Photographs
by John D. Battersby

Nelson Mandela chronicles the path of the South African leader from early in his battle with apartheid to his release and subsequent ascendancy to the Presidency of that country. Photographs are supplemented with Battersby's journalistic contributions and text from Mandela's speeches.

OVERSIZED B
MANDELA N