Overview Commentary

Would you like to get in touch with HUD or Habitat for Humanity in your quest to find affordable low-cost living accommodations, but don't know where to start? Are you or someone you know trying to find an available Section 8 housing unit? Perhaps you have retired or are now alone after the death of a loved one and are seeking smaller, low-cost living accommodations, but don't know how to start your search.

The Plainfield Public Library has many resources at your disposal to help you locate an agency or organization that has the potential to help you in your housing quest. The Reference Department can help you to access applications, contact numbers, and county resources that can aid you in taking the right steps to find low-cost housing. Additionally, the Reference Librarians can help you find information on related issues such as learning about home ownership, getting help with your utility bills, getting rental help, avoiding foreclosure, finding a housing counselor, doing a subsidized housing search, finding homeless resources, or filing a housing discrimination complaint.

Whatever your goal, make your library your first stop. Good luck in your housing needs!
